

Thirteenth NIHR Doctoral Research Training Camp APPLYING FOR FURTHER FUNDING

05 JULY 2022

VIRTUAL EVENT

The doctoral training camp is a 3 day annual face to face event which provides guidance and practical experience to learn how to put together a successful application for funding.

By attending the virtual sessions run during day 1 of the NIHR Doctoral Training Camp, you will have access to the introductory plenary talks.

The event will include presentations on:

- How to sell yourself when applying for funding
- How to sell your project when applying for funding
- Effective patient and public involvement
- What funding panels are looking for in applications

There will also be a guest inspirational speaker who will share their academic career journey to date, including key successes and challenges faced along the way.

On the registration site you can access the programme for the day, as well as recordings from the 2021 training camp (in the resources section) and link through to NIHR funding opportunities.
